June 9, 2011 - After the classrooms cleared last Friday, Leonard ISD administration held an awards assembly for their employees, honoring those retiring and presenting service pins to those working for the district in five-year increments.

Leonard Junior High Secretary Claudette Griffin (top) was recognized for her many years of service to the district, as she is retiring this year. Awards for the longest tenure were presented to Coylene Moreland (middle) and Tracy Howell (bottom), both of whom have worked at Leonard for 25 years.
